

REFLECTIONS

The News comes to us, and at us, from all directions, or as they say, 24/7. In fact, at times, there is too much news and so much that is repetitive. Added to that, there is, very often, a dearth of good news.

The reading from Isaiah today is all about Good News, because this is the season of GOSPEL. Even though it is good news, unfortunately, with all the pretty paper, tinsel, adverts about incredible festive meals and extravagant entertainments, the Good News story is, very often, swamped by all such festive trimmings.

It is good to take time to think of the INCREDIBLE at this time of the year and how these events we know so well would eventually change the world.

Just for a moment, think of three people - Mary, Jesus' brother James, and St Paul.

Mary, in the stable with the baby Jesus, was also there at the crucifixion and during the first Easter.

James saw his brother die and experienced the resurrection drama or in other words 'to have his own brother appear alive before him'. He then went on to lead the Church in Jerusalem as it began to grow in the aftermath of that resurrection.

Paul went from being an aggressive persecutor of Christian communities to being one convinced of the errors of his ways and a receiver of the Good News.

Looking at all the images of stables, shepherds, wise men etc at this time of the year, someone might ask you why you believe all this? In answer you could say 'look at the lives of Mary, James and Paul, to name but three, for there is some Good News that has been passed down to us!'

Let us make sure it doesn't get crowded out.

Collect

O Lord Jesus Christ, who at your first coming sent your messenger to prepare your way before you: grant that the ministers and stewards of your mysteries may likewise so prepare and make ready your way by turning the hearts of the disobedient to the wisdom of the just, that at your second coming to judge the world we may be found an acceptable people in your sight; for you are alive and reign with the Father in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

First Reading: Isaiah 61.1-4, 8-11

The servant of the Lord said: The spirit of the Lord GOD is upon me, because the LORD has anointed me; he has sent me to bring good news to the oppressed, to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and release to the prisoners; to proclaim the year of the LORD's favour, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all who mourn; to provide for those who mourn in Zion – to give them a garland instead of ashes, the oil of gladness instead of mourning, the mantle of praise instead of a faint spirit. They will be called oaks of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, to display his glory. They shall build up the ancient ruins, they shall raise up the former devastations; they shall repair the ruined cities, the devastations of many generations. For I the LORD love justice, I hate robbery and wrongdoing; I will faithfully give them their recompense, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them. Their descendants shall be known among the nations, and their offspring among the peoples; all who see them shall acknowledge that they are a people whom the LORD has blessed. I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, my whole being shall exult in my God; for he has clothed me with the garments of salvation, he has covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decks himself with a garland, and as a bride adorns herself with her jewels. For as the earth brings forth its shoots, and as a garden causes what is sown in it to spring up, so the Lord GOD will cause righteousness and praise to spring up before all the nations.

Gospel: John 1.6-8, 19-28

There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. He came as a witness to testify to the light, so that all might believe through him. He himself was not the light, but he came to testify to the light. This is the testimony given by John when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, 'Who are you?' He confessed and did not deny it, but confessed, 'I am not the Messiah.' And they asked him, 'What then? Are you Elijah?' He said, 'I am not.' 'Are you the prophet?' He answered, 'No.' Then they said to him, 'Who are you? Let us have an answer for those who sent us. What do you say about yourself?' He said, 'I am the voice of one crying out in the wilderness, "Make straight the way of the Lord"', as the prophet Isaiah said. Now they had been sent from the Pharisees. They asked him, 'Why then are you baptizing if you are neither the Messiah, nor Elijah, nor the prophet?' John answered them, 'I baptize with water. Among you stands one whom you do not know, the one who is coming after me; I am not worthy to untie the thong of his sandal.' This took place in Bethany across the Jordan where John was baptizing.

Post Communion

We give you thanks, O Lord, for these heavenly gifts; kindle in us the fire of your Spirit that when your Christ comes again we may shine as lights before his face; who is alive and reigns now and for ever.

MINISTER'S LETTER

Dear Friends

I have to admit that, back in the 1960s, it took me a few attempts to pass my driving test! One of the challenges today is a more complicated Highway Code. Not only do you have to master the skills of driving on busier roads, but you have to have your eyes open to a multiplicity of road signs, the dos and don'ts of driving, knowledge of the roads and how to get to your destination. Of course, Sat Navs do help these days!

Can you recognise any parallels there in the illustrations I have given to the life of faith?

When you read the Bible, you read of a number of Prophets who appeared at different times and in periods of crisis, to either castigate or encourage people to get them moving in the right Godward direction.

When John the Baptist appeared, some thought he was one such person, for everything about him was prophet-like. I have always pictured him as the Lord's road mender with a metaphorical pneumatic drill preparing a new road surface for Jesus to lead people along. (v23 'make straight the way of the Lord'.) New things were about to happen; so much so, we are still walking along the same road, hopefully following the Highway Code given to us by our Lord.

With my prayers this Advent.
Chris Bishop
